WILDERNESS HOTEL AND GOLF RESORT
DEVELOPERS' HISTORY IN THE WISCONSIN DELLS
CAN BE TRACED BACK TO THE LATE 1800S

WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis. — Tom Lucke, Wilderness Hotel & Golf Resort owner; Pete Helland Jr., vice president and owner; Tim Lucke, project manager and owner; and Pat Helland, director of development and owner; can trace their family heritage in Wisconsin Dells back to the late 1800s. Their grandfather, Oliver "O.P." Helland, the son of a Norwegian immigrant, was one of the first local rivermen to organize sightseeing boat tours along the Wisconsin River when he founded the Riverview Boat Line in 1921. As a respected businessman and civic leader, O.P. Helland helped transform the local economy by recognizing its tourism potential and elevating the town into what is now one of the Midwest's leading vacation destinations.

Shortly after its inception, Riverview Boat Line expanded its holdings by acquiring land along the Wisconsin River and developing retail shops, a restaurant and tavern, a gas station, and a hotel. Hotel Helland was built across from the busy local train station and served tourists and businesspeople alike as they traveled through the area.

O.P.'s son, Peter Helland Sr., (Pat and Pete Jr.'s father) began overseeing company operations in 1952. Together with his sister, Virginia Helland Lucke (Tom's mother and Tim's grandmother), and their brother, attorney Hans Helland, they picked up where their father left off — following O.P.'s legacy of hard work, attention to detail, and concern for the community.

Over the past 40 years, the company's holdings have included Pirates' Cove Mini-Golf, Riverview Park & Waterworld, Fort Dells, Goody Gum Drop Candy Shop and a partnership in the Upper & Lower Dells Boat Tours and the Original Wisconsin Ducks. While Peter Sr. managed the company's daily operations, Virginia operated and oversaw the firm's retail division.

Growing up in the local tourist industry, Tom, Pat and Pete Jr. worked for the family's business. From scooping ice cream and selling boat tickets to piloting boats and amphibious Duck tours, the boys learned the value of hard work and customer service. With this experience in hand, Tom bought his first motel, the Riviera, at the age of 28. Over the next ten years he single-handedly re-defined the hotel industry in the area by recognizing and capitalizing on the popularity of outdoor and indoor interactive pool centers.

The Wilderness Hotel & Golf Resort (443 units), which opened in 1995, represents Tom's fifth and most extravagant themed hotel in the Wisconsin Dells area. The hands-on developer also created the Polynesian Hotel (a 230-unit tropical-themed resort), the Atlantis (79 units), the Bahama Bay (60 units) and the Caribbean Club (a 68-unit hotel/condominium resort).

Tom is a 1977 University of Wisconsin graduate with a Bachelor's degree in Marketing. Pat graduated from Colorado State University with a degree in Construction Management. Pete Jr. is a 1988 Yale graduate and also has a Master's degree in Business Administration from the University of Wisconsin. Tim graduated from the University of Nevada-Los Vegas' William F. Harrah College of Hotel Administration.

Wilderness Resort, as featured on the Travel Channel's Xtreme Waterparks TV show in 2012, consists of over 600 wooded acres in Wisconsin Dells, and is the perfect destination for a fun-filled family vacation, meeting or special event.
