Wilderness Resort's Wild WaterDome Renovation Complete

Major renovation includes first of its kind family thrill slide in North America, new zero-depth area, updated dining spaces and tropical-inspired look to Wisconsin Dells' iconic indoor waterpark

WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis. – The wait is over. Following a major renovation, the Wild WaterDome Waterpark at Wilderness Resort is now open, welcoming guests to a refreshed tropical environment featuring a brand-new family thrill ride, an upgraded children's zero-depth play area, refreshed dining spaces and a refreshed look throughout the 70,000-square-foot indoor waterpark.

At the heart of the renovation is Volcano Vortex, a first-of-its-kind family water slide in North America. The new volcano-themed attraction replaces one of the two former Dueling Mammoths raft rides, and sends up to five guests at a time through high-speed turns and high-G spirals, creating the sensation of revolving around the ride.

"We've made a lot of updates to our resort and other waterparks over the last decade and it was time to give the WaterDome a refresh as well," said Joe Eck, Chief Operating Officer for Wilderness Resorts and Waterparks. "We're super excited to be unveiling the Volcano Vortex family thrill ride we know it's going to be a hit!"

Eck describes the new attraction as a shared adrenaline experience designed to combine speed, tight turns and high-energy thrills.

“Think Formula 1 on water: razor-sharp corners, gravity-pushing spirals, and wide-open views that let you see every heart-pounding moment coming—just before it hits,” Eck said. “The entire experience will wrap you in motion and energy, where every revolution will crank up the excitement. It will be fast, fluid and all in the middle of a volcano-themed slide... A shared adrenaline blast that is certain to have everyone laughing, screaming, and coming back for more.”

A New Look and New Experiences

Volcano Vortex is just one part of the Wild WaterDome renovation.

The waterpark's remaining Dueling Mammoths raft ride has been renamed Paradise Falls. The attraction, which was the industry's original family raft ride, accommodates up to five guests in a circular raft as they navigate wide tunnels, fast curves, sudden drops and smooth transitions.

For younger guests, the former Mini Mammoth's Cove has been completely reimaged as Coral Cove. The new zero-depth children's area features an exciting mix of slides and tropical-themed interactive play areas designed to encourage discovery and exploration, while maintaining clear sight lines for parents.

The WaterDome's iconic wave pool remains a centerpiece of the waterpark and Margarita's popular swim up bar remains the same. Guests will also notice a new floor and fresh tropical paint theme throughout the park, creating a brighter, more cohesive atmosphere. The renovation also included replacing the waterpark's state-of-the-art see-through roof.

Refreshed Dining Experiences

The renovation also extends beyond the water attractions.

Survivor's Bar & Grille received some of the most noticeable upgrades, including a refreshed menu, all-new flooring, updated TVs to enhance the sports-viewing experience and new dining furniture. The result is a more comfortable, modern environment while maintaining the familiar atmosphere guests have come to enjoy.

Meanwhile, Wooly's has been refreshed and is being reintroduced as Castaway Café. Molly's Shake Shoppe remains in this outlet as well. The updated name and interior design complement the WaterDome's tropical theme, while offering the same convenient quick-service items guests have come to know and love.
